Appo's story was one of the most arkable and sensational ever listened to from a witnes, and when he connected the Police Department, and especially the Central Office detectives, with the green-goods fraternity, and said they all had to pay handsomely for the protection they received, and for immunity from arrest, although they were all well known to the detectives, the importance of his testimony

Many Police Witnesses on Hand. The result was that the Committee's Court this morning was the rendezvous of numerous prominent representatives of the Pelice Department, including a number of Central Office detectives. Among them was Detective Sergt. Mike Crowley, who had a big bundle of papers, which he had been ordered to produce. They were records of the Detective Bureau at Police Headquar-

Big Capt. Max Schmittberger, now o the Tenderloin Precinct, and Capt. Strauss, of the East Sixty-seventh street station, were also on hand in answer to subpoenas and dressed in full

It was said that they had been brought down for purposes of identification by witnesses, and not to testify. Besides witnesses, and not to testify. Beades those there were five or six patroimen and ward officies in the court.

Coursel for the Committee said that there was no truth in the report that Peter De Lacy, the king of the pool-room-keepers, had expressed a desire to testify before the Senators and tell of the enormous payments he had made to the police for "protection" in past years.

"If De Lacy has made any such statement it has not been made to any one ment it has not been made to any one connected with the Com nittee," said Mr. Moss this morning.

It was also stated that Supt. Byrnes had not yet been subpoenaed as a witness. He has been asked to produce some records of the Department, but this will not necessitate his appearance in person before the Committee, said Mr. G. of this morning.

Senator Pound, who had been absent for the last two weeks, made his appearance this morning, and sat next to Chairman Lexow when the latter called the Committee to order at 11 o'clock. Other members of the Committee present were Senators Bradely, Robertson and O'Connor.

It was announced that a full day's session would be held to-day, and that the principal witnesses would probabily be small street-venders, who claim to have been blackmailed by the police. Also, that there would be two or three keep-

Also, that there would be two or three keepers of disorderly houses on the east side who had been diopped, when the Committee made its excursion yesterday into the Tenderloin Precinct. There were several women in the witness-box in the corner, one of whom was waiting all day yesterday to be called.

Mr. Nicoll was on deck again this morning, and ex-Judge Ransom took a day off, while Lawyer William A. Butherland, of Rochester, sat at the head of the coursel table, as usual, and took notes.

Petty Merchants Called.

Mr. Goff opened the proceedings by calling off a list of witnesses with unpronounceable names, with which he struggled bravely. "We will try and take an excursion into the mountains of Bohemia to-day," remarked the law-

Some of the people whom he called were present, but the most of them did not respond to their names. These who answered said that the others had been in court earlier in the morning, but had gone out. They had their account books with them and all were said to be small merchants on the east side.

They all were well-dressed men and apparently in well-to-do circumstances. Some of the absentees arrived after the roll had been called, and the small Bohemian colony was finally corralled. There were no seats for them, and Mr. Goff complained that all the chairs were being monopolized by persons ome of the people whom he called

MR. EDISON'S FIGHT. NAVARRE WINS

ON SUNDAY, Pugilists Leonard and Cushing

Seven Men of Wealth and Science the Spectators.

A prize-fight in the interest of science s a rather unique event, but that is what is reported to have taken place in the Ward Man Campbell, He Swears, laboratory of Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, near Orange, N. J., early yester-son's representatives and a purse of $300 subscribed, all of which was to go to the winner.

The fighters weighed in at 130 pounds when they entered the twelve-foot ling which had been pitched within the focus of Mr. Edison's last invention, the kinetograph, which was to catch and preserve every movement of the pugilists for the purpose of reproduction later on. From the reports which were received to-day the enthusiasm of the scientific gentlemen who witnessed the contest was not wholly caused by the prospect of a successful series of pictures being obtained. From all accounts the fight itself was watched with every evidence of delight on the part of the seven spectators. In fact, so excited did they become over the clever movements of the boxers that they forsook their seats and crowded about the ring.

Owing to the secrecy walch attended the meeting of the two lads it was today difficult to obtain full details of the fight, but it was learned that this was not be first set-to which had been 'run off' in Mr. Edison's laboratory. It is said that some time ago Jack McAuliffe and his sparring partner boxed a few rounds before the camera, but the exhibition was so far from being a real, sure-enough fight that Mr. Edison and his friends were not at all satisfied.

Accordingly arrangements were a ade with Leonard and Cushing to light to a finish, and to draw blood, if possible. Before the mill it was explained to the men that the rounds would last but two minutes, and finish was to give the operators a chance to work the machine to good advantage.

a chance to work the machine to good advantage.

When time was called for the first round, Leonard rushed his man and hit low until his opponent's wind was gone. He continued this line of fighting until the sixth round, when he landed on Cushing with his right and the latter went down in a heap.

Cushing, it is said, received a substantial sum as a saive, and the two puglilists departed with their two friends who acted as seconds. They came with instructions to talk to no one about what had happened.

Mr. Edison is said to have expressed himself as thoroughly satisfied with the negatives obtained during the fight.

old as any in training. He has been singularly unfortunate.

"Soup" Perkins, the crack Western light-weight, had the mount, and he played with his field carelessly until a sixteenth of a mile from home. Then he cut loose, and it was all over, Mellan hung close to the favorite all the way and beat Merry Monarch out for the place.

Sport was favorite in the second race at the very generous price of 15 to 10. This was due to the fact that there were several good things heavily played in the race. The books also will continue to take chances on Sport's running kindly. Kinglet was heavily played, and W. B. had strong support for the place. The gossips of the ring said the Kinglet people played W. B.

Sport tried to sulk going up the hill, but Sims coaxed him along, and he shot by his field in the stretch and won easily. W. B. got the place, while Gold Dollar was third. Kinglet was m discreet fourth.

Agitator was an even-money chance in the third race, but a very bad start killed whatever chance he had. South Side, at 6 to 1 in the betting, got off well, and, taking the lead at the last furlong, drew out and won handly from Bombazette, a 10 to 1 shot. Agitator was third. PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—The start in the great boat race between Cornell and University of Pennsylvania will be made about 5.45 this evening. Fine time should be made, as the crews will have the full strength of the tide. The men who have watched the crews train expect a grand struggle. Cornell has the advantage of science, but Pennsylvania is heavier and more muscular. The Pennsylvania boys will be handicapped by a poor boat, and if the river is rough a lot of water will be shipped.

DAVIS IN PRETTY BAD FORM

Umpire—Mr. Emslie.

First Inning—Elmer Smith raced like a stake horse and just got there ahead of Murphy's throw of his hot bounder. Donovan pelted up an easy foul fly off third, and Davis nailed it. A blazing meteoric liner from the nose of Jake Beckley's bat nearly knocked Tottie Murphy off his pins, but the Atom clung to it with desperation. Stenzel out on his hit to Doyle unassisted. No runs.

Murphy gauged Gumbert nicely and secured first by waiting until Pittsburg's court clerk, which Gumbert is, tossed a quartet of very, queer ones everywhere but over the plate. Then Eddle Burke, too, went to first on balls, and things looked positively rony. Davis brought down the wrath of the rooters when he bunted a mealy fly infield which Gumbert nabbed. Doyle didn't bunt, you bet. He slapped the ball full in the eye and it rolled past Lyons like a ball of blue fire Murphy trotted home and Burke reached third. He got it and Glasscock, who was determined to make a circuit of the bases, was neatly nalled at third. No runs.
